Federer bids for fifth Wimbledon title

Roger Federer is bidding for a fifth successive men's singles title at the 2007 Wimbledon Championships, which begin today at the All England Club in London.

Top seed Federer is attempting to become the first man since Bjorn Borg in 1976-80 to win Wimbledon five years in a row, Borg becoming the only man to achieve this feat since the abolition of the Challenge Round. Having missed Halle, the Swiss player is also bidding to become the first champion not to have played a grass-court warm-up event since Andre Agassi in 1992.

Roland Garros champion and last year's beaten finalist Rafael Nadal is seeded No. 2, and has the chance to become the first player since Borg to win back-to-back titles at Paris and Wimbledon. Andy Roddick, who claimed his fourth Queen's title a week ago, is seeded No. 3 and on course for a semifinal showdown with Federer, his conqueror at Wimbledon for three of the past four years.

Federer is one of only two Wimbledon champions in the draw, with 2002 winner Lleyton Hewitt seeded No. 16 and in line for a fourth round meeting with No. 4 seed Novak Djokovic.

Amelie Mauresmo defends her women's title, having lifted the crown with a three-set victory over Justine Henin last year. The two players could meet in the final again this year, with Henin seeded No. 1, and Mauresmo seeded No. 4 in the bottom half of the draw. The Belgian, who is looking for her first Wimbledon victory to complete a career Grand Slam, earned a morale-boosting victory over Mauresmo in the final at Eastbourne on Saturday.

Mauresmo is one of five former champions in a women's draw that also includes 2004 winner Maria Sharapova; three-time titleist Venus Williams; her sister Serena Williams, a winner in 2002-03; and 1997 champion Martina Hingis.

The Wimbledon Championships run until Sunday 8 July. Daily radio reports and photos from Wimbledon will be available online at www.itftennis.com. For the latest results, live scoring, interviews, draws and order of play, please visit the official Wimbledon website: www.wimbledon.org.

Wimbledon Junior Forum

The Wimbledon Forum (Intro to Professional Tennis) will take place for the fourth consecutive year at the University of Roehampton in London on Thursday 28 July at 18:00 local time.

The Wimbledon Forum is part of the ITF Junior Tennis School which aims to educate junior players on all aspects of tennis, from health and nutrition to coaching and commercial aspects of the game.

The event will include presentations from Dave Miley and Dr Stuart Miller of the ITF, Dr Babette M. Pluim of the ITF Medical Commission, Dr Ann Quinn of the LTA, and Ashley Kerber of the WTA. For further information contact Faye Andrews at the ITF at faye.andrews@itftennis.com.

NEWS IN BRIEF

ITF launches 'Play and Stay'

The ITF announced the formal launch of the 'Tennis... Play and Stay' campaign at the ITF Annual General Meeting in Tunis, Tunisia on 21 June. The campaign, which is aimed at increasing tennis participation worldwide, centres around the slogan 'Serve, Rally and Score', and promotes tennis as easy, fun and healthy.

All the latest information can be found on a dedicated website: www.tennisplayandstay.com.

Tennis Australia announcement

Tennis Australia has launched a multi-million dollar national court rebate scheme with the aim of stimulating court growth and improving facilities around the country.

The scheme offers AUD$2 million annually for three years with Tennis Australia's member affiliates invited to submit applications for funding to develop or upgrade court surfaces and associated infrastructure.

Further details including application forms and supporting documentation can be downloaded from www.tennis.com.au.

Obituary - Carmel Derdaele

The ITF was deeply saddened to learn of the death of Tennis Canada's Carmel Derdaele, after a long battle with cancer, at her home in Toronto on 18 June at the age of 59.

Derdaele served as the director of national events for Tennis Canada, including all Davis Cup and Fed Cup ties, and several national championships, for more than 20 years. She was the second-longest serving employee of Tennis Canada.

In 2006, Tennis Canada created the Carmel Derdaele Award, presented annually to the employee who best exemplifies the ideals and values of the organisation. Derdaele was the inaugural recipient of the award, which was presented to her by the organisation in December.
