USA makes junior history in Mexico

The USA's boys' and girls' teams clinched a historic double victory in the finals of the Junior Davis Cup and Junior Fed Cup by BNP Paribas Finals in San Luis Potosi, Mexico on Sunday. The two 16 & under American teams matched the achievements of their 14 & counterparts in Prostějov last month by winning both events. No nation in history has won all four of the ITF's junior team competitions in one season.

The USA girls' team, led by captain Roger Smith, defeated Great Britain 2-0 to win the Junior Fed Cup after Christina McHale beat Heather Watson 62 62, and Kristie Ahn battled past Tara Moore 67(3) 61 75, saving a matchpoint at 3-5 down in a thrilling third set. The USA boys' team, captained by David Roditi, notched up a 2-0 win over Argentina in the Junior Davis Cup Final when Evan King defeated Andrea Collarini 61 26 62, and Denis Kudla overcame Agustin Velotti 63 64.

USA's girls justified their top seeding to capture their first Junior Fed Cup title, winning the event without the loss of a rubber in their five matches. Fourth seeds Great Britain also enjoyed their best-ever result by reaching the final, while Hungary overcame Belarus 2-0 in the third place play-off.

USA's boys were only seeded third, but matched the achievement of their girls' team by winning all five matches without losing a rubber. They defeated No. 2 seeds India in the semifinals, the same stage at which fifth seeds Argentina upset top seeds Russia. Russia went on to defeat India 2-1 in the third place play-off.

Roditi's boys leapt for joy after ending Argentina's dogged run in the final, dancing around the centre court at the La Loma Centro Deportivo Club and absorbing the cheers from the large crowd in the stands. The Mexican-born captain said: "I'm so happy for them. They know that it's a big deal to be here representing their country because they are part of a very good class from the USA. That put pressure on them and they responded unbelievably well. They are such a good team together."

Kristie Ahn's was arguably the performance of the day after looking down and out when Britain's Tara Moore came within one point of a victory which would have taken the girls' final to a deciding doubles. She said: "I was shaking but my team helped me pull through and the fans kind of spurred me on. When I got down matchpoint for some reason I didn't feel like I was down. It felt like I was still in the match."

Smith admitted afterwards that he and Roditi had been well aware that their players were on the brink of a historic achievement but tried to shield their charges from any additional pressure. "We knew that coming in here but we tried to keep it away from the players obviously," he said. "I think is something that we've been waiting for a long, long time, at least in the six years that I've been with the United States Tennis Association, for a bunch that can play at this level."

Llagostera Vives wins in Sofia

Spain's Nuria Llagostera Vives won this month's Allianz Cup, the first ever $100,000 event to be held in Sofia, Bulgaria. The 28-year-old sixth seed defeated second seed Tsvetana Pironkova 62 63 in the final, to claim her second singles title of the year. After an initial shaky start in her first match, Llagostera Vives hit form and dropped only one set on her way to the final.

The doubles event saw Maret Ani (EST) and Renata Voracova (CZE) team up to defeat Spain's Arantxa Parra-Santonja and Lourdes Dominguez-Lino in a thrilling encounter 76(4) 76(9). The Ani/Voracova pairing seems to be a winning one as it is the second $100,000 tournament they have won together following their victory in Cueno, Italy in June.
