

2025 WIMBLEDON THE CHAMPIONSHIPS

Junior Tournament Preview

In 1947, the first junior singles events were held at Wimbledon, with Denmark's Kurt Nielsen and Belgium's Genieve Domken winning the inaugural tournaments. The boys' doubles and girls' doubles events were introduced in 1982. This is the 78th edition of the boys' singles and girls' singles tournaments here, and the 42nd editions of both the boys' doubles and girls' doubles tournaments. 2025 Wimbledon is the 138th staging of The Championships overall.

Wimbledon has seen the 2nd-longest wait for a home player to win the girls' singles title of the 4 Grand Slams – Laura Robson was the most-recent British girls' singles champion at Wimbledon, winning the title here in 2008.

2024 CHAMPIONS CONTINUE DEVELOPMENT

Aged 17, Renata Jamrichova remains eligible to compete at junior-level, but is currently focusing on her professional career and has not played any junior tournaments since winning the girls' singles title here last year.

Jamrichova reached a career-high WTA ranking of No. 304 in March and is currently ranked at No. 327. She has contested women's singles qualifying at both the Australian Open and Wimbledon this year, reaching the 2nd round of qualifying at both events. She also competed in Billie Jean King Cup action for Slovakia (having made her debut in the competition in 2023), losing to USA's Hailey Baptiste in the Qualifiers Group C event in April. She has also made 3 appearances at WTA Tour events since winning the girls' singles title here last year, falling in the 1st round at Prague in July last year, and at Auckland and Merida earlier this year. Her best result in 2025 is reaching the semifinals at W75 Trnava in Slovakia in May.

Eighteen-year-old Nicolai Budkov Kjaer, who defeated Mees Rottgering in the boys' singles final here last year, played the boys' singles at the US Open last year following his triumph in London, finishing runner-up to Spain's Rafael Jodar at Flushing Meadows, before ending his junior career.

Budkov Kjaer reached a career-high ATP ranking of No. 287 in March and is currently ranked at No. 303. His best result in 2025 is winning his first Challenger-level title at the Glasgow Challenger (GBR) this year. He contested qualifying at a Masters-1000 event for the first time, falling to Bu Yunchaokete in the 1st round of qualifying at Monte Carlo-1000 and also reached the 2nd round of men's singles qualifying at Wimbledon this year. Having also made his international competition debut in 2023, he contested further Davis Cup matches in February this year, falling to both Tomas Martin Etcheverry and Mariano Navone in Norway's 2-3 defeat to Argentina in the 2025 Qualifiers 1st round in January.
