

WORLD TENNIS MASTERS TOUR TOURNAMENTS IN THE USA: FAQs

1. Where can I find World Tennis Masters Tour tournaments taking place in the USA?

The full list of World Tennis Masters Tour events, including tournaments taking place in the USA, can be found on the Masters Tour calendar here. You can filter the calendar to the month, country and tournament name that you are searching for.

2. What is the USTA?

The USTA stands for the United States Tennis Association (USTA). The USTA is the national governing body for tennis in the USA. Find out more about who they are here

3. Why are some USTA events not on the Masters Tour Calendar?

Not all USTA Masters events are approved for the Masters Tour. Like all nations, some of the USTA tournaments are national events rather than international. To view the full USTA calendar, please click here

4. Why can't I enter tournaments in the USA through World Tennis Tour Zone? (previously known as IPIN)

The USTA uses its own entry system, separate from World Tennis Tur Zone. To register for a USTA account and enter Masters-approved USA tournaments, please go to the following link.

Please note, although the entry system is separate from the Masters entry system, you must have a valid Masters membership (IPIN) to be eligible for Masters-approved USA tournaments. As with other World tennis Masters Tour events, the membership fee applies to all tournaments in the USA. This fee is equivalent to $12 USD.

5. How are points allocated for USA tournaments?

World Tennis Masters Tour tournaments in the USA follow the same grading structure as other Masters Tour events, outlined on page 11 of the Masters Regulations

6. Who should I contact for queries relating to events in the USA?

Tournament director details are posted on the Masters Tour factsheet for each approved USA event. This can be found via Tour Zone or on the world Tennis Masters calendar.

7. When will results show on the Masters World Rankings for USTA events?

The Masters Department aims to submit results for all Masters Tour approved USA events on the Monday of the tournament week following the event. Because all USTA results are manually processed by the Masters team, results may take an additional week(s) to be posted during busier times of the year.
