

The ITF's International Team Competition for players aged 16 and Under was launched in 1985 as the World Youth Cup. This event was re-branded in 2002 as the Junior Davis Cup by BNP Paribas, alongside the Junior Fed Cup, before the latter was subsequently re-branded the Junior Billie Jean King Cup by BNP Paribas in 2020. This age bracket was chosen as a critical period in a player's development and provided an opportunity for young players to enjoy a taste of the special demands of team membership in a competitive environment.

A number of past participants in the boys' competition have gone on to make their mark on the ATP Tour:

Jim Courier (USA 1986)

Michael Chang (USA 1986)

Goran Ivanisevic (Yugoslavia 1986)

Gustavo Kuerten (Brazil 1992)

Marat Safin (Russia 1995)

Lleyton Hewitt (Australia 1995/1996)

Roger Federer (Switzerland 1996)

Andy Roddick (USA 1998)

Rafael Nadal (Spain 2002)

Kei Nishikori (Japan 2005)

Bernard Tomic (Australia 2007)

Kyle Edmund (Great Britain 2011)

Denis Shapovalov (Canada 2015)

Felix Auger-Aliassime (Canada 2015)

The competition is open to all member nations of the ITF and sixteen teams, who have emerged from regional qualifying events in all parts of the world, contest the finals in one venue during one week.
